How are we going to address the primitive hunting traditions of muzzleloaders using old flintlocks if we can't use lead balls? Too many traditions are being thrown to the side and forgotten, it's shameful. Now because the animal rights terrorists, we are threatened to lose another. I don't understand why the commission continues to listen to these radicals. They have already won the war on bear hunters who used dogs. The bear harvest was down 40% in 2013 from 2012, when the law against using dogs for hunting bears was implemented. It started by only being allowed to use 3 dogs then none. This is their agenda, to make it harder and harder for us to enjoy our hunting heritage and you in our elected offices help them out time after time. I am sorry to have to write this but I am disappointed and needed to vent my frustration. What am I supposed to do with all of my lead based ammo that I already have? Thank you for listening and I hope we can turn this around.

Sincerely, Kevin J Mildenberger Cobb, California
