Put the start time back to 1/2 hour before sunrise and reduce the total take of Abalone to 15 per year. This would be the most fair way to ALL Abalone fishermen. This would be the safer way to go. Lets think about the Abalone fishermen enstead of just the Abalone ..You also need to open up some areas that haven't been open for a long time (at least temporary) seems as though the state keeps closing more and more areas and putting too much pressure on the places that remain open. I have been watching the Abalone crop south of San Francisco and there is no die off from (limp disease?) so all areas south of San Francisco should be reopened. Thank you, Fred Meyer
